The Top Reasons

Why You'll Love District-Wide Access to Read&Write

rw Read&Write

MTSS/UDL Initiatives

Read&Write advances MTSS and UDL initiatives by providing systemic supports for Tier 1 as well as providing all students with the tools to learn independently and on grade-level.

LMS compatibility

Read&Write is compatible with all LMS ecosystems, Google and Microsoft platforms, and most digital curriculum.

Security

IT and technology directors can be confident in the security of student data using Read&Write as Texthelp's policies adhere to GDPR compliance and the current ISO standards.

Easy for IT

Instead of the burdens of rostering and assigning students to Read&Write premium licensing, IT can simply push-out premium access to all students in under 15 minutes. Access for all - achieved!

Compliance

Legal requirements of accessibility for students with IEP's, on 504 plans and English Language Learners (ELL) are vastly covered with access to Read&Write.

Staffing Shortages

When students can read, write, and understand independently using Read&Write, the unknown of who is teaching them tomorrow is less of an emotional struggle.

Inclusion

The Case for Inclusion: Marginalized students can be confident that they can learn on grade-level regardless of their race, ethnicity, orientation, social status, or cognitive level.

50 Million Users

Read&Write is helping 50 million users (and growing everyday) receive access to all courses and digital platforms to learn independently, on grade-level.

State Assessment Integrations

Students using Co:Writer on the state test will have access to the same prediction during their daily use. We have a great section on our website dedicated to demonstrating which Read&Write features correlate to your state test accommodations. Test Correlations

Ease of Use

Read&Write is simple and straight-forward for students to understand and use. We listen to our amazing educators who have used Read&Write with their students for a decade to make the user interface one that students can easily use to comprehend and learn independently, on grade-level.
